Fiction

The Academy by Elin Hilderbrand. This has been described as an “irresistible, deliciously scandalous story” taking place during one year at a New England boarding school. Scandalous items appear on the students’ phones, secrets are exposed, and many lives are forever changed. A fun ride!

What We Can Know by Ian McEwan. This new novel is filled with secrets and surprises. We are led from 2014 to 2119: the future where the world has been changed by rising seas and nuclear accidents. The book is a “masterpiece” of mystery, secrets, and surprises. A love story of the past and future.

The Portrait by Danielle Steel. This is the story of a talented portrait artist and her “high-powered” subject. How their relationship evolves and deepens makes for an unforgettable tale of courage, connection, and love.

Health

The Unexpected Journey: Finding Strength, Hope, and Yourself on the Caregiver Path by Emma Heming Willis. The book has been described as a “game changer for caregivers of loved ones with dementia.” Emma Willis is the wife of Bruce Willis who has been diagnosed with frontotemporal dementia (FTD). They had been given very little information after his diagnosis. To help others, she has written this story about their journey in the hopes of it being a supportive guide for those dealing with this and their caregivers.

Mystery

The Impossible Fortune by Richard Osman. This is a new mystery in the Thursday Murder Club series. The “gang” soon becomes involved in the disappearance of a guest at an upcoming wedding. Is there a kidnapping? Or a murder? Will the Thursday Murder Club solve it all?

Denied Access by Vince Flynn. The third in the trilogy features Mitch Rapp. Here Rapp must save the woman he loves who is in the middle of a “show down” between the CIA and Russian intelligence. It is a story filled with action; described as a fast-paced thriller, filled with “gritty realism.”
