MEET THE DOCTOR

Dr. Ericka DeVore

Dr. DeVore received her clinical doctorate degree (Au.D.) in audiology at Nova Southeastern University in 2007. Before relocating to Central Florida, she worked for one of the largest ear, nose, and throat specialty groups in Southwest Florida.

Dr. DeVore counsels families and individuals about the consequences of untreated hearing loss and the positive news about today's solutions. Having family members with hearing loss gives her additional insight into the impact of hearing loss on loved ones.
